CART Services

Communication Access Real-time Translation (CART) is provided by a stenographer. It is the most widely used technology or providing instant translation of the spoken word into English text. The text can be viewed on a computer monitor, television or projection screen, as well as an iPad, Tablet, iPhone, Blackberry or Kindle. CART provides a fully immersive experience allowing deaf and hard-of-hearing persons the ability to fully understand and comprehend verbal communication during a funeral or graveside service.

HOW IS CART PROVIDED?

CART services can easily be accessed. You need only an internet connection and a source for audio. The text can be viewed on a computer monitor, television, LED or projection screen, iPad, iPhone, Tablet, Blackberry or Kindle.

"Approximately 17 percent (36 million) of American adults report some degree of hearing loss," says the National Institute on Deafness and Other Communication Disorders/National Institutes of Health.

When is CART Needed

Ask families if they are aware of individuals with special communication needs that may attend a funeral service. Often families are overwhelmed with all the responsibility of planning a funeral that the accommodation for CART is overlooked.
